At Ispiri Design Build Remodel's showroom, you won't see racks of product finishes or selections. What you will see is an environment that serves to inspire: the office itself is the showroom.

Clients who enter are greeted by a warm foyer encompassing a cultured stone and pergola enclosure, custom cherry built-in cabinetry, Silestone counters, and a cozy nook with leather pub chairs for two. Each office space represents a different style, from European traditional to urban contemporary. Even the conference room is a showpiece, with a natural granite table, custom cherry wainscoting and millwork details, and a limestone fireplace.

Ispiri (the Italian word for "inspire," pronounced "e-spear-e") is a full-service design-build-remodel firm based in Woodbury. Since its opening about a year ago, Ispiri has grown from the new business on the block to one that's setting the bar high. The company designs and builds projects from kitchens and bathrooms to lower level finishes, large-scale remodels, additions, and new construction.

"With inspired in-house design consultation services, meticulous project management, and a strong client focus, Ispiri has set a new standard in the home building and remodeling industry," says owner and design consultant Jason Fabio. "Taking you from the first concepts to the final nail, Ispiri brings a unique approach to home building, remodeling and design. No project is too small, and no idea is too grand."

Each of Ispiri's design consultants—Fabio, Caroline Lese, and Jamie Anderson—brings unique experience to the table. Together, they specialize in creating extraordinary spaces that reflect a client's personal style and make it a point to ensure that the experience for all clients is "nothing short of inspired," Fabio says.

Appointments are necessary to meet with a design consultant, he adds, but walk-ins are welcome to stop by to schedule a meeting.

"We are full-service...with an extensive warranty program to cover our workmanship and products, and we think that separates us from the other guys," Fabio says. "We want to change people's perception of the construction industry—to let them know there are honest, hard-working companies out
