Project Manager

St. Paul, MN, December, 2007 - Ispíri Design, Build, Remodel, a design and remodeling firm in Woodbury, hired Dan Mattson to manage all Ispíri projects and lend his expertise in the field of water intrusion remediation. Mr. Mattson replaces current project manager Jamie Anderson, allowing the opportunity for Jamie to move into a Design Consultant position within the company.

As Project Manager, Mr. Mattson is charged with the scheduling, coordination and customer relations of all Ispíri projects from design to completion. With many years of experience guiding clients through the remodeling experience, Ispíri is thrilled to add him to their growing team.

Mr. Mattson was most recently employed by Brinkman Russell, Inc. located in Oakdale. During his time there he was responsible for project management, safety compliance and was a member of the company leadership team.

"During my interview process with Ispíri, it was evident that they share my passion for customer service and quality projects," says Mattson. "Merging my project management experience with the strength of the dynamic Ispíri team is a complete win-win."

In his new role as Design Consultant, Jamie will work closely with clients to create their ideal project. From design to selection, he will be an integral part of the project process. His strong communication and organizational skills lend themselves well to his set of responsibilities.

"Having been with Ispíri since its inception, I'm thrilled to be growing as the company grows and taking on this new challenge," says Anderson. "I look forward to working closely with our clients to create positive changes within their homes."
