

We had three relatively large projects (at least to us they seem big) that spanned a six-month period — a screen porch addition, a pool house/storage structure, and a lower-level finish. The Ispiri team involved on our projects — Jason, Jamie, Max, Tom and Jim — were all great to work with. They are very professional, respectful, and approachable individuals.

Because our home was new construction, we wanted to complete the outside projects first so we could get our pool and landscaping installed as soon as possible. Ispiri's flexibility, ability to meet deadlines, and ability to work around the pool contractor meant these other projects would not be delayed. We were able to enjoy the new porch, pool house, and pool for a good portion of the swimming season even though our outdoor projects did not start until June.

Once school started, it was time to finish the lower level. Once again, Ispiri delivered more of the same high-quality customer service and workmanship.

As with most remodeling projects, we had various issues develop. These issues, as well as any other concerns we had, were addressed promptly and with sincerity — truly impressive!

The experience during the remodeling process can be stressful. Ispiri's professional, yet personal, approach helped ease that stress for us. We highly recommend Ispiri to anyone considering a remodel project.

Thank you Ispiri!
